THIS PAPER that he found on file at Goo. P.

THE death of Emory Storrs, the famous Chicago lawyer, is in some respects a national loss. He was a really great lawyer, and doubtless her by express soon after and was had no superior in the country as an eloquent and persuasive advocate. Even on the dryest questions of law, it was a rare trea to listen to him, and there was a constnmate affectation of sincerity about him in difficult circun stances, and at critical times that amount d to art of the best quality. He leaves a great void in the Illinois bar, and it will be hard to fill it. He loved politics passionately and was one of wife in Atlanta. the best equipped stump speakers in the Union. This is an increase of over six per cent., and at a time when no gain was to be looked for. The Sonora road, which is a part of the Atchison system, also reports decided gains. Since the first of the year this line shows a net income of $38,660 compared with a deficit for the same months of 1884 of $20,787. These gains are due to the traffic furnished by the steamer.
